

Norvic Family Practice PPG Health Awareness Event

This event was held at the Heritage Centre in Victoria Park, Smethwick.

Where did the idea come from?

First idea was a sponsored walk, but risk assessment would have been a mammoth task. A pop up event seemed the best thing to do, as patients can come for a health check and visit information stalls like Healthy Sandwell, Albion Foundation and the Hearing Service. Even if we alert just one person about their high blood pressure then it was be a successful event.

We hope more people with a diverse background will sign up to be part of our PPG.

Patients could have their blood pressure checked and weight taken. The Hearing Service also did demonstrations.

What did the patients think of the event?

Excellent, they should do more like this.

Very good. Great to see my doctor that I haven't seen in years.

I used to be part of this PPG and will always support them.

Lovely event and great to meet you all.

Nice event.

150 people attended the event
101 people had a health check done
81 of those people were patients
